

Sheep are hardy,
meaning they can
live in cold or hot climate.

Sheep eat grass,
leaves, and
twigs.

Sheep are grazers, not browsers like
goats.

Sheep do not seek
shelter from wind,
rain, or cold, but will seek shade when their fleece is long.

Sheep will follow
but will not lead.

Sheep can remember
the face of their own shepherd as well as his voice.

The enemies of
sheep are wolves,
coyotes, and
wild dogs.

Sheep are easily
frightened and will flee rather than fight.
