Being a parent in our fast-paced world is not easy. Providing for the financial needs, as well as the emotional and educational needs, of your children is a big challenge.

I, along with the Sunday school teachers of our church, want to commend you for including church in {children's names} lives.

We are honored that you trust us with the spiritual training of your children. It is a privilege for our church to join hand-in-hand with your home in teaching them God's way. Knowing and obeying God's Word can save them much heartache later in life.

Our schedule of services is listed on the margin of this letter. We would be glad to have you worship with us anytime.

Our prayer is that God will bless and strengthen your family and provide your needs, whether financial, physical or spiritual.

If I can be of service to your family, or if you have any questions about what our teachers are teaching your children, please feel free to call me.

Sincerely,

{Pastor or SS director}
